

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

	PAGE
INTRODUCTORY NOTE. By Edwin R. A. Seligman . . . . .	5
PREFACE . . . . .	7
TABLE OF CONTENTS . . . . .	9

---

PART I

THE DAY, THE LIFE, THE MAN, THE WRITINGS

INTRODUCTION . . . . .	15
------------------------	----

CHAPTER I

ENVIRONMENT

I Eighteenth Century Great Britain . . . . .	17
II Bristol . . . . .	18

CHAPTER II

TUCKER'S LIFE

Early Life . . . . .	22
Clerical Preferments . . . . .	23
Clerical Friends: Butler, Forster, Birch, Secker, Seward, Warburton. . . . .	27
An Active Politician . . . . .	29
Relations to Turgot, Hume, Kames and Townshend . . . . .	32
Family Relations . . . . .	34
Personal Appearance . . . . .	35
Epitaph. . . . .	36

CHAPTER III

CHARACTERIZATION

I Tucker a Thinker . . . . .	37
II Tucker an Observer . . . . .	40
III Tucker Independent . . . . .	42

	PAGE
IV Tucker Sincere . . . . .	43
V Tucker Practical . . . . .	44
VI Tucker Tolerant . . . . .	45
VII Tucker Controversial . . . . .	46
VIII Summary . . . . .	46

CHAPTER IV

TUCKER'S WRITINGS

I Classified by Decades . . . . .	48
II Classified by Topics . . . . .	50
a. Religious . . . . .	51
b. Political . . . . .	55
c. Economic . . . . .	59

PART II

TUCKER'S ECONOMIC THOUGHT

INTRODUCTION . . . . .	71
------------------------	----

CHAPTER I

FUNDAMENTAL NOTIONS

Commerce as a Science . . . . .	73
Analysis of Human Wants . . . . .	74
Analysis of Self Interest. . . . .	75
I Tucker on Wants . . . . .	77
Wants in General . . . . .	77
a. Luxury . . . . .	79
b. Spirituous Liquors . . . . .	82
II Tucker on Self Interest. . . . .	84
III Tucker on Relation of Ethics to Economics . . . . .	87
IV Tucker's Theory of National Prosperity . . . . .	91
V Tucker's Historic Sense . . . . .	95

CHAPTER II

POPULATION

Tucker Advocates Needed Increase in Great Britain's Population . . . . .	104
Desirability of Large Population in General . . . . .	105
Desirability of Large Population in Great Britain. . . . .	107

	PAGE
Polity to Increase Population in Great Britain . . . . .	108
I Tucker on Immigration and Emigration . . . . .	110
II Tucker on Rural Exodus . . . . .	114
III Tucker on the Poor . . . . .	115
a. Describes Condition of Poor. . . . .	115
b. Presents Claims of Poor . . . . .	116
c. Criticizes Poor House System . . . . .	117
d. Proposes a Poor House System . . . . .	119

CHAPTER III

AGRICULTURE

Relation of Agriculture to Manufacture . . . . .	121
I Polity for Subdividing Great Estates . . . . .	122
II Polity for Enclosing Commons . . . . .	123
III Polity for Changing Tithes to Glebes . . . . .	125
IV Polity for Increasing Buildings on Marshy Ground . . . . .	125
V Polity for Increasing Amount of Timber . . . . .	126
VI Polity for Registering Landed Titles . . . . .	126
Tucker on Rent. . . . .	127

CHAPTER IV

MANUFACTURES

Tucker's Economic Freedom Thesis . . . . .	129
Manufactures, and Freedom of Trade Defined . . . . .	130
Arguments Against Claims of Exclusive Companies . . . . .	131
Against Standard Manufactures . . . . .	131
Against Company's Claim to Develop Industries . . . . .	131
I. Competition and Monopoly . . . . .	132
Opposes Apprenticeship Act . . . . .	134
Opposes Navigation Act . . . . .	135
II. Labor and Wages. . . . .	135
a. Competition in the Labor Market . . . . .	136
b. Piece vs. Time Wages . . . . .	136
c. Division of Labor . . . . .	137
d. Domestic vs. Factory System . . . . .	141
e. Danger of High Wages and Holidays . . . . .	144
f. Unproductive Classes . . . . .	145
g. Opposition to Fixed Wages . . . . .	145
h. Opposition to Apprenticeship and Settlement Acts . . . . .	146
i. Opposition to Slave Labor . . . . .	148

	PAGE
III Capital and Interest . . . . .	149
a. Capital . . . . .	149
b. Interest. . . . .	150
Rate of Loan Interest . . . . .	150
Distinguishes Interest from Profits . . . . .	151
Condemns Usury Law . . . . .	151
IV Machinery—Tucker Advocates its Use . . . . .	152

CHAPTER V

COMMERCE—FOREIGN TRADE

Tucker a Mercantilist . . . . .	156
Glimpses of Full Freedom of Trade . . . . .	158
Attack upon Chartered Trading Companies . . . . .	161
I Philosophy of Exchange . . . . .	167
II Jealousy of Trade . . . . .	168
Opposes War . . . . .	172
III Mercantilism . . . . .	174
a. Tucker a Mercantilist . . . . .	175
b. Tucker a Neo-Mercantilist . . . . .	178
Gold not Riches . . . . .	178
Favors Export of Bullion. . . . .	179
Distinguishes Merchant's Balance of Trade from Nation's . . . . .	180
In Exchange both Nations Gain . . . . .	180
IV. Bounties, . . . . .	181
Infant Industry Argument . . . . .	183
V. Colonies . . . . .	184
VI. Statistics. . . . .	190

CHAPTER VI

MONEY

Summary of Tucker's Thought upon Money . . . . .	193
I Functions of Money . . . . .	194
II Standard of Value . . . . .	194
III Market Price . . . . .	195
Formula for Market Price . . . . .	195
Opposition to Government Standards for Marketable Goods. . . . .	196
IV Philosophy of Exchange . . . . .	197
V A Circulating Government Bond Scheme . . . . .	197

CHAPTER VII

PAGE

TAXATION

In General . . . . .	198
I Tax Criterion . . . . .	199
II Application of this Criterion to British System of Taxes . . . . .	201
Tucker's Summary of his Theory of Taxes . . . . .	207
III Taxation Miscellany . . . . .	209
a. Ability to Pay . . . . .	209
b. Incidence . . . . .	209
c. Collection of Taxes . . . . .	209
d. High vs. Heavy Tax . . . . .	210
e. Smuggling . . . . .	210
f. Lottery Scheme . . . . .	211
g. The National Debt . . . . .	211

PART III

SOURCES, INFLUENCE AND CONCLUSIONS

CHAPTER I

SOURCES

I Debt to Other Writers: Petty, Child, Gee, Harrington, Mandeville, Berkeley, Ustariz, Montesquieu, Hume, Turgot, Stewart, Smith . . . . .	213
II Reports, Statutes, etc. . . . .	219
III Personal Observations . . . . .	220

CHAPTER II

INFLUENCE

I Tucker's Controversial Pamphlets . . . . .	221
II Tucker's Scientific Works Unknown . . . . .	222
III Influence on the English School . . . . .	224
IV Influence on the Physiocrats . . . . .	226

CHAPTER III

CONCLUSIONS

I Tucker Deserves Higher Rank than he has Received. . . . .	229
II Tucker's Works Contain Much Thought Similar to that of the Wealth of Nations . . . . .	230

	PAGE
APPENDIX—THE SKELETON OF TUCKER'S GREAT WORK . . . . .	233
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF TUCKER'S WORKS . . . . .	241
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF REPLIES TO TUCKER'S WORKS . . . . .	252
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF TUCKER'S CORRESPONDENCE . . . . .	254
BIBLIOGRAPHY OF TUCKER'S LIFE . . . . .	256