

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER.	PAGE.
I Struggle the Law of Progress.....	9
II Improvement in Industrial Conditions.....	14
III The World's Tribute to Monopoly.....	19
IV Increasing the Length of the Workday a Bad Economic Move.....	23
V Trusts and Labor Organizations.....	27
VI The Modern Way of Conducting a Strike....	33
VII Guilds of the Middle Ages.....	42
VIII Arbitration and the Industrial Situation.....	47
IX The Confusion Concerning Capital.....	57
X Are Trades Unions a Menace to Business....	62
XI The World's Wealth Insufficient to Make All Men Rich.....	68
XII Immigration	72
XIII The Regulator of Wages.....	83
XIV Makeshifts for Justice.....	91
XV Half a Loaf vs. No Bread.....	102
XVI The Good in Social Conferences.....	106
XVII The Woman Reporter and The Dinner Pail Brigade	111
XVIII "Ability," and the Production of Wealth.....	117
XIX Progress of Socialism.....	126
XX Failures of Workingmen's Parties in Michigan	137
XXI Have all Wealth Producers an Equal Chance..	141
XXII The Equitable Assessment of Personal Prop- erty	147

CHAPTER.	PAGE.
XXIII The Moral Status of the Single Tax.....	155
XXIV Who Pays the Taxes?.....	159
XXV Newspapers, the Public and the Single Tax...	166
XXVI The Public and Public Franchises.....	173
XXVII Cause and Cure for Industrial Depressions...	180
XXVIII Free Speech and The Detroit Campus.....	185
XXIX The Slow Progress of Great Reforms.....	194
XXX Definitions of Economic Terms.....	199
Appendix—A Billionaire's Benevolence and How it Went Astray.....	206
Index	217