

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	iv
Introduction, Overview, and Article Summaries	1
1. Democracy, Earth Rights and the Next Economy	27
2. Who Owns the Earth?	51
3. Land for People, Not for Profit	57
4. Green Economics: A Decentralist, Bioregionalist, Global Agenda	65
5. Restructuring Economic Relationships	67
6. Earth Rights Democracy	69
7. Forget the Old Tax Fights	85
8. Public Finance Based on Judeo-Christian Teachings	89
9. Financing Local-to-Global Public Goods via Green Tax Shift	109
10. Financing Planet Management	135
11. Acting As If the Second Assembly Already Exists	147
12. Land Value Tax and Resource Rent to Finance Development	151
13. Local-to-Global Ecotax, Land Value Tax and Citizen Dividends	157
14. The Alaska Permanent Fund	165
15. Citizen Dividends and Oil Rent: Alaska, Norway and Nigeria	175
16. Women, Earth and Economic Power	187
17. Harvard Club Speech on the UN HABITAT II in Istanbul	189
18. Sharing Our Common Heritage via the Tax Shift Agenda	195
19. Pennsylvania's Success with Local Property Tax Reform	201
20. How Pennsylvania Boroughs Attained Land Tax Option	211
21. Pennsylvania Farmers and the Split Rate Tax	221
22. Lunch and Lecture with Ralph Nader	247
23. Diary of an Outreach Activist	251
24. IMF and World Bank Protest	255
25. D.C. Protest Provides New Insights	265
26. Professional Super Hero	267
27. Oh Say Can You See	271
28. Letter to a Church	275
29. A Friend of Mine Bombed a Friend of Mine	277
30. Economics of War and Peace	279
About Earth Rights Institute	340
About the Author	341
Bibliography	342
Photo credits	348
Index	349