We have pleasure in intimating that the Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, M.P., has accepted an invitation to address the Conference on Wednesday, 15th August, at 12 noon. Among the letters of regret for non-attendance is one from the Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, M.P., Secretary of the Labour Party, who has sent a message affirming his support of the policy advocated by the Conference.

The holding of the Conference has appealed to friends and supporters the world over. That will be evident to anyone who glances at the Membership list. We should have liked to see present all who are named there. Many, unfortunately, are unable to come owing to the distance, the expense and other reasons; but they have given practical expression to their good wishes for the Conference by joining as members. The greetings received from these correspondents, stating their eagerness to be identified with what will be done at Oxford to give new impetus to the movement, are gladly acknowledged and will be reciprocated by all who are in attendance at our eventful gathering. We reprint some of the letters in another column. We urge all our readers to associate themselves with the Conference in the same way—or, better still, by personal attendance—and also to help its financial needs.

As announced on the front page of this issue, the Membership list is still open for enrolment. It will remain open till 13th August, but those who have postponed decision till now should make up their minds AT ONCE about going to Oxford. Suitable residence (at or about £3 3s. inclusive for the week) will be arranged for them by Mrs. C. A. Warburton, the Convener of the Accommodation Committee, who is giving the matter her personal attention.

The company at the Commemoration Dinner will number over 200. It will be the greatest function of the kind ever held in this country to honour the revered name of Henry George. With such an inauguration and with an assembly of men and women who are all actively engaged in promoting our aims in their own country or district and who bring common counsel to one "grand committee meeting," the
