For financial and other assistance with research and typing costs, etc., my grateful thanks are due to the Association for Good Government, Sydney, and the New South Wales Henry George Foundation Ltd.; and the Proportional Representation Society, N.S.W. Branch, for advice and assistance in the writing of Chapter 10 Electoral Democracy.

Finally, my most sincere thanks to those of my colleagues of the Association for Good Government, without whose guidance, advice and criticism, this book would have been very much the poorer: Lionel Boorman, E. B. Donohue, W. A. Dowe and V. J. Ralph.
