

CONTENTS

	PAGE
DEDICATION	viii

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION	1
The intricate co-operative process of serving a dinner; of street car service; of merchandizing; of house building; of professional service. Mutuality of service and its indispensability. Normal interchanges of service. Civilized life a complex social organism vitalized by trade. Simplicity of the science of the social organism. Money as a certificate of title to social service.

CHAPTER II

THE USE OF MONEY IN SOCIAL SERVICE	16
The money function a primary consideration. Money subordinate to the services it exchanges. Money as currency. Value. Statistics of Value. The language of money. Clearing houses. Comparison of details, regarding money, with essential principles. Enumeration of principles.

CHAPTER III

THE ABUSE OF MONEY IN SOCIAL SERVICE	46
Pathology and "healthology." Love of money equivalent to love of dominion, which is love of slavery. Hunger and Cold. Wishing for money. Gold and silver coinage. Intrinsic value. Greenbackism. Money a form of credit. Pathological money standards. Interest. Loan sharks. The essential principle of a loan. Unfair distribution of social service not necessarily due to bad money systems.

CHAPTER IV

INDIVIDUAL SELF-SERVICE THE PRIMARY IMPULSE OF SOCIAL SERVICE 70
Why we swap social services. Charity. Hospitality. Easy money. Progress and Poverty. The key to the science of social service. Political economy. The line of least resistance. Marvelous invention. The baffling problem of our time. Co-operation in the business world. The round-up of social service. The social service market.

CHAPTER V

DEMAND AND SUPPLY 100
Buyers virtually make what they buy. "Giving work." Demand for consumption determines the direction in which labor will be expended in producing supply. Service and commodities. Artificial commodities—wealth. Producers of wealth. Meaning of production and consumption. Commodities in the market like water in a reservoir. Mankind live from hand'to mouth. Wealth cannot be saved. Overproduction. Equilibrium of supply and demand. Effective demand. Current demand satisfied only from current production. Formulation of the law of demand and supply.

CHAPTER VI

COMPETITION 128
The "tooth-and-claw" argument. "Jug-handled" competition. Competition and co-operation convertible terms. Abolishing competition. Pathology of competition. Competition the natural regulator of the social service market. Determined by the irksomeness of work. Values. Land values. Natural function of competition. Competition and monopoly antithetical. The doctrine of "all the traffic will bear."

CHAPTER VII

THE MECHANISM OF SOCIAL SERVICE 149
Business. Usefulness and serviceableness.
General principles. Advances of wages. Employers and employes as partners. Business pathology.

CHAPTER VIII

TRADING 162
Going "over to town to trade." The vast field of trade. The social service of the world.
How farmers trade. Stores. Specialization and generalization in storekeeping. Mutual accidents. "Surplus" service. Workers and parasites. Definition of trade. Wholesale and retail stores. Reservoir illustration. History of storekeeping. Cut-throat competition. Competitive impulses. Free competition. Profits.
Newspaper illustration. "All the traffic will bear." Exploitation of labor. Fishing at Green's pond. Monopoly. Co-operative industry.

CHAPTER IX

THE CIRCLES OF TRADE 184
Retail stores. Food, clothing, shelter, luxuries, and personal services. Wholesale stores.
Factories. Original materials. Transportation. Accounts. Action and reaction of production and consumption. Value. "Corners."
"Higgling." Market places, ancient and modern. Monopoly versus competition. Business.

CHAPTER X

CREDITS AND ACCOUNTING 197
The mechanism of payments. Illustration of the interlinked phenomena of barter. Value measurements. Currency. Credits. Bookkeeping. Banks. Checks. Clearing Houses.
Brokerage in credits. Insurance of credits.
Illustration of the interlaced phenomena of credit. Bills of exchange. International trade.
Balances of trade. Business is barter.

CHAPTER XI

DERANGEMENTS OF THE MECHANISM OF SOCIAL SERVICE 223
The pathology of social service. Painful social contrasts. Idlers and workers. Purchasing power. Producers and consumers. Diversion of service. Mutual employment. Checking of mutual employment. Business depressions. Tax obstructions. Free trade. The instruments of production—artificial and natural. Opportunities for production. The fundamental requisite of social service.

CHAPTER XII

ANALYSIS OF THE INSTRUMENTS OF SOCIAL SERVICE 233
Production and distribution. Wages. Interest. Rent. Insurance. Wages of superintendence. Ability. The entrepreneur. Capital. Land. Labor. Natural and artificial instruments of production. Commodities. Diagrams of production. Human activity utilizing natural instruments, produces consumable objects inclusive of artificial instruments.

CHAPTER XIII

ARTIFICIAL INSTRUMENTS OF SOCIAL SERVICE . . . 250
Indispensability of artificial instruments. Produced by current labor. Monopoly of artificial instruments. Industrial classes. Governmental power.

CHAPTER XIV

NATURAL INSTRUMENTS OF SOCIAL SERVICE AND THEIR CAPITALIZATION 262
Monopoly of natural instruments. Meaning and effect of capitalization. Value. From Feudalism to Capitalism.

CHAPTER XV

FEUDALISM 271
Capitalistic conditions under Feudalism. Industrial history. Development of Feudalism and its supersedure by Capitalism.

CHAPTER XVI
CAPITALISM	281
Its beginning. Its intensification. Its nature. Its triumph over Feudalism. Its confusions.
CHAPTER XVII
KARL MARX AND HENRY GEORGE	295
The influence of capitalistic confusions.
CHAPTER XVIII
FROM PRIMITIVE TO CAPITALISTIC PRODUCTION	306
The most primitive forms. Persistence of the essential principles into the most complex forms. Bellamy's water tank illustration.
CHAPTER XIX
THE SOCIAL SERVICE LAW OF EQUAL FREEDOM	317
Natural laws. Résumé of preceding chapters. Natural and artificial capital. Meaning of the law of equal freedom. Unperverted capitalism.
CHAPTER XX
APPLICATION OF THE LAW OF EQUAL FREEDOM	335
The co-operative commonwealth under unper- verted capitalism. Evolutionary processes versus conventional contrivances. The prin- ciple of free contract. Socialism, artificial and natural.
CHAPTER XXI
METHOD	347
Deference to custom. Taxation. The "single tax." Socialization of natural capital and individualization of artificial capital. Differ- ential value of land. Natural socialism the beneficent social climax.	