

The Freeman

A Monthly Critical Journal of Social and Economic Affairs

Vol. 1V. No. 11

September, 1941

Five Cents

HOW SHOULD THE WAR BE PAID FOR?

An Editorial

THIRTY THOUSAND LOST AMERICANS

By Jim Busey

HOLLYWOOD COCKTAIL

By Martin Simon

•

Faith in Freedom - The Price of Cliveden Sets

"With Respect for Existing Obligations"

We Can't Do Business - Rationing by Popular Demand

To win a little military glory; to rouse the miserable vanities and vile passions that masquerade under the name of patriotism; to excite the madness that in man, as in some other animals, is worked by blood, is the most potent resource of a governing class who wish to divert attention from home matters and secure an unreasoning, unquestioning support.—Henry George in "The Standard."