

CONTENTS

	PAGE
GENERAL INTRODUCTION. The Industrial Revolution of the Nineteenth Century—Social Theories and Socialism—"Utopian" Socialism, its Characteristics and Origin—Development of Modern Socialism—"Utopian" and Modern Socialism Contrasted	7

PART I

Early Socialism

INTRODUCTION. UTOPIAN SOCIALISM AND COMMUNISTIC EXPERIMENTS. Communistic Experiments as a Form of "Utopian" Socialism—The United States as the Principal Field of Operations of Social Communities—Number, Strength, and Classification of American Communities	21
---	----

CHAPTER I

SECTARIAN COMMUNITIES

I. THE SHAKERS. Origin and Growth of the Sect—Social Organization and Classes—Religious Beliefs and Mode of Life—The Communism of the Shakers	29
II. THE HARMONY SOCIETY. The "Separatists" and George Rapp—Migrations of the Harmonites—"Count De Leon"—Present Condition and Accumulated Wealth of the Society	32
III. ZOAR. Immigration of Sect into the United States—Joseph Bäumeler—Origin of the Zoar Community—Incorporation—Litigation—Dissolution	34
IV. THE AMANA COMMUNITY. The "True Inspiration Society"—Christian Metz and Barbara Heynemann—First Settlement in Buffalo, N. Y.—Emigration to Iowa—The Seven Amana Villages—Administration of Affairs—Customs and Mode of Life	37
V. BETHEL AND AURORA. Adventurous Career of Dr. Keil—

	PAGE
Life and Industries of the Communists—Loose Form of Organization—Dissolution	40
VI. THE ONEIDA COMMUNITY. John Humphrey Noyes and "Perfectionism"—Establishment of the Oneida Settlement—High Standard of Culture—Religious Doctrines—"Complex Marriages"—Schools and Literature—An Instance of "Mutual Criticism"—Transformation into a Joint-Stock Company	42

CHAPTER II

THE OWENITE PERIOD

I. ROBERT OWEN. Life of Owen—Theory of the Formation of the Human Character—The Manufacturing Village of New Lanark—Owen's Business Partners—Conversion to Communism—Theories of Social Reconstruction—Social Experiments—Work of Propaganda in England and the United States—"Equitable Banks of Labor Exchange"—"Association of all Classes and Nations"—Death of Owen—Robert Dale Owen—The Two Evanses—First Political Working-Men's Party in New York	51
II. NEW HARMONY. Location and Appearance of the Settlement—Founders of the Community—Heterogeneous Crowd of Settlers—Seven Successive "Constitutions"—Division of the Community—Failure of the Enterprise	61
III. YELLOW SPRINGS COMMUNITY. The Swedenborgians of Cincinnati—Dr. Roe—Enthusiasm of the Settlers—Brief Career of the Experiment	67
IV. NASHOBA. Life of Frances Wright—Purpose and Management of the Settlement—Abandonment of the Experiment	69
V. OTHER OWENITE EXPERIMENTS. The Haverstraw Community and the "Church of Reason"—The Cocksackie Community and Debates on Constitutions—The Ill-fated Kendal Community	71

CHAPTER III

THE FOURIERIST PERIOD

I. CHARLES FOURIER, HIS LIFE AND THEORIES. Education—Literary Productions—Universal Harmony, Passions, Attraction, Groups, and Series—The Phalanx—The Little Hordes—Distribution of Profits—Cosmogony—Death of Fourier	77
--	----

II. FOURIERISM IN THE UNITED STATES. Albert Brisbane— "Social Destiny of Man"—Horace Greeley—The "New York Tribune" and Fourierism—Parke Godwin's Works— "The Phalanx"—"The Harbinger"—George Ripley, Charles A. Dana, John S. Dwight, and William Channing— Lecture Tours—Fourieristic Societies and Conventions . . .	87
III. FOURIERIST PHALANXES. Character of Fourieristic Ex- periments in the United States—Reasons for their Failure —Further Careers of Greeley, Brisbane, Ripley, Dana, and Dwight	95
IV. THE NORTH AMERICAN PHALANX. Origin of the Settle- ment—Industrial Pursuits—"Equitable" Distribution of Profits—Decline of Phalanx—Conflagration of Mill—Dis- solution	100
V. BROOK FARM. "Transcendental Club"—"The Dial"—Dec- laration of Principles and Constitution—The School and the Scholars—Work and Amusements—Conversion to Fourierism—Popularity of Brook Farm—Conflagration of the Phalanstery—Breaking Up	104
VI. THE WISCONSIN PHALANX OR CERESCO. Warren Chase— A Fourierist Town—Material Prosperity—Unitary and Isolated Households—Voluntary Dissolution	110
VII. THE PENNSYLVANIA GROUP. The Sylvania Association— The Peace-Union Settlement—The Social-Reform Union —The Le Raysville Phalanx	112
VIII. THE NEW YORK GROUP. Four Phalanxes of Common Origin—American Industrial Union	114
IX. THE OHIO GROUP. Trumbull, Ohio, Clermont, Integral, and Columbian Phalanxes	115
X. OTHER FOURIERIST EXPERIMENTS	117

CHAPTER IV

THE ICARIAN COMMUNITIES

I. THE ORIGIN OF ICARIA. Étienne Cabet—Revolutionary Ca- reer—Exile—"Voyage en Icarie"—Plan of Communistic Settlement—"Icarian" Movement—Acquisition of Land in Texas—Departure of "Advance Guard"	121
II. TEXAS. Landing of "Advance Guard"—A Land-Agent's Trick—Death and Disease among the Icarians—Retreat to New Orleans—Arrival of Cabet and his Followers	125
III. NAUVOO. The Town and its Mormon Founders—Period

	PAGE
of Prosperity—Administration of the Colony—Disputes— Expulsion and Death of Cabot	129
IV. CHELTENHAM. The Conservatives and the Radicals	131
V. IOWA. Decline of Nauvoo—Emigration to Iowa—Hardships of Pioneer Life—The Old and the Young—Heated Contro- versies—Forfeiture of Charter—"Icarian Community"— "Icaria Speranza"—"The New Icarian Community"	133
OBSERVATIONS AND CONCLUSIONS. Prosperity of Sectarian Communities and Failure of Non-Religious Communities— Influence of Communistic Régime on Formation of Char- acter—Enterprise and Inventiveness—Industry and Moral- ity, Health and Longevity, Education and Culture	138

PART II

The Modern Movement

INTRODUCTION. THE DEVELOPMENT OF MODERN SOCIALISM IN THE UNITED STATES. Connecting Links between the Earlier and the Modern Movement—Difference in the Na- ture and Origin of the Two Movements—Social and Indus- trial Transformation of the United States—Rise of the Factory System—Formation of Classes—Struggles between Capital and Labor—Checks on the Growth of Socialism in the United States—Economic, Historical, and Political Causes—Division of the History of Modern Socialism in the United States	149
---	-----

CHAPTER I

ANTE-BELLUM PERIOD

I. THE BEGINNINGS OF THE MOVEMENT. German Emigrants— Communistic Clubs—"Germania"	159
II. WILHELM WEITLING AND THE GENERAL WORKING-MEN'S LEAGUE. Wilhelm Weitling—Childhood and Youth— "The Guaranties of Harmony and Freedom"—Weitling's Philosophy—First Visit to the United States—The Revolu- tion of 1848—Return to this Country—"The Republic of the Working Men"—Central Committee of German Trades —First National Convention of German Working Men on American Soil—General Working-Men's League—A Communist Experiment in Iowa—Joseph Weydemeyer—"The Revolution"—"The Social Republic"	160

	PAGE
III. GYMNAS TIC UNIONS. Origin of the Societies—"Mental Gymnastics"—Socialistic Gymnastic Union—Place of the Gymnastic Societies in the Early Socialist Movement of America	168
IV. THE COMMUNIST CLUB. Membership—Constitution and Activity of the Club	169
V. GERMAN SOCIALISTS IN THE CIVIL WAR. German Turner Regiments—Weydemeyer, Willich, and Other German Socialists in the Ranks of the Union Army	170

CHAPTER II

THE PERIOD OF ORGANIZATION

I. THE INTERNATIONAL WORKING-MEN'S ASSOCIATION. Review of the Economic and Political Situation at the Time of the Formation of the International—Immediate Occasion for its Formation—Platform—Mode of Operation—Conventions—Karl Marx and Michael Bakounine—"Alliance Internationale de la Democratie Socialiste"—Transfer of General Council to New York	175
II. THE INTERNATIONAL AND THE NATIONAL LABOR-UNION. The Trade-Union Movement after the Close of the Civil War—Formation of National Labor-Union—William H. Sylvis, his Life and Work in the Labor Movement—His Connections with the European International—The International and the National Labor-Union—German Socialists in the Union—Dr. A. Donai—Decline of the National Labor-Union	183
III. THE INTERNATIONAL IN THE UNITED STATES. The Social Party of New York and Vicinity and the General German Labor Association—"Sections" of the International in New York, Chicago, and San Francisco—Formation of Central Committee—Rapid Growth of the Organization—The Troublesome "Section 12"—Formation of the North American Federation—F. A. Sorge—Industrial Crisis of 1873—Tompkins Square Demonstration—Parades of Unemployed—The Labor Party of Illinois and the Social Democratic Workingmen's Party of North America—Division in the Ranks of the American International—End of the International	194

	PAGE
IV. THE FORMATION OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY. Growth of the Social Democratic Working-Men's Party—Last Convention of the National Labor-Union—Treaty of Union Between the Socialist Organizations—Formation of Working-Men's Party of the United States—Change of Name to Socialist Labor Party of North America	207

CHAPTER III

THE PERIOD OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY

I. THE PLACE OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY IN THE SOCIALIST MOVEMENT. Obstacles in the Way of the Party's Progress—Efforts to "Americanize" the Movement—Relation to Trade-Unions—Politics and Political Alliances—Slow Progress of the Party—Struggle with Anarchism—Internal Strifes—Achievements of Socialist Labor Party	213
II. CAREER OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY.
1. Early Triumphs and Reverses. Railway Strikes of 1877—Battles with Militia—Destruction of Railroad Property—Capture of St. Louis—Socialist Propaganda—Growth of the Party—National Conventions in Newark, N. J., and Allegheny City, Pa.—Establishment of the New York "Volkszeitung"—Arrival of Political Refugees from Germany—National Convention in New York.	219
2. Struggles with Anarchism. The Theory and Practise of Anarchism—Socialism and Anarchism Contrasted—Anarchism in Europe and in the United States—"Revolutionary Socialist Labor Party"—John Most—The Pittsburg Convention of 1883—International Working-People's Association—The "Pittsburg Proclamation"—Spread of the Anarchist Movement—Controversies between Socialists and Anarchists—Disappearance of Philip Van Patten—Negotiations for Union of the International Working-People's Association and the Socialist Labor Party—Baltimore Convention of 1883—Debate between Most and Grottkau—Renewed Activity of Socialists	230
3. The Chicago Drama. The Industrial Depression of 1884-1886—Eight-Hour-Day Movement—The Internationalists and the Movement—The McCormick Strike

- Haymarket Meeting—The Bomb—Popular Indignation against Anarchism—Arrest and Trial of Spies, Schwab, Fielden, Parsons, Fischer, Engel, Lingg, and Neebe—Biographical Notes of the Prisoners—Conviction and Execution of the Chicago Anarchists. 243
4. Period of Reconstruction. Revival of Socialist Movement—Agitation Tour of Liebknecht and the Avelings—Buffalo Convention of 1887—The International Working-Men's Association—History, Objects, and Strength of the Organization—Factions and Split in the Socialist Labor Party—Rival Conventions in Chicago—Steady Progress—New York Convention of 1896—High-Water Mark in the Development of the Party 252
- III. THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY IN POLITICS.
1. Independent Politics. Original Views on Politics—Early Political Campaigns—First Victories in Chicago—Working-Men's Party of California—First Presidential Nominations 259
2. The Greenback Party. Origin of the Movement—Formation of the Party—Growth and Decline—Socialists in the Greenback Convention of 1880—Political Pessimism—Alliances with Other Labor Parties 265
3. The Henry George Movement. Life of Henry George—Progress and Poverty—Single-Tax Theory—The United Labor Party—The New York Mayoralty Campaign of 1886—Socialism and Single-Tax Theory Compared—Socialists in the George Movement—The Syracuse Convention of 1887 272
4. Independent Politics Again. The Progressive Labor Party—Socialist Tickets in 1888—Commonwealth Party—State Campaigns in New York—Presidential Candidates of Socialist Labor Party in 1892 and 1896—Growth of Party's Vote 280
- IV. THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY AND THE TRADE-UNIONS.
1. Local Organizations. Trade-Unions in Sympathy with Socialism—Central Labor-Union and Central Labor Federation of New York—Central Bodies of Trade-Unions in other Cities—United German Trades—United Hebrew Trades 284
2. The Knights of Labor. Origin and Growth of the Order—Workings and Ritual—Declaration of Principles—Socialists in the Order. 289

	PAGE
3. The American Federation of Labor. Federation of Organized Trades and Labor-Unions of the United States and Canada—Its Formation and Career—Rivalry between the Federation and the Knights—Eight-Hour Work-Day—American Federation of Labor—Its Struggles and Progress—Socialist Resolutions in its Annual Conventions	294
4. The Socialist Trade and Labor Alliance. Organization of the Alliance—Its Aims, Method, and Career—Decline of the Alliance.	301

CHAPTER IV

PRESENT-DAY SOCIALISM

I. THE FORMATIVE FORCES OF PRESENT-DAY SOCIALISM. Concentration of Industry—Powerful Labor Organizations—Strikes at Homestead, Cœur d'Alene, Buffalo, and Tennessee—The Pullman Strike—Militia and Injunctions—Edward Bellamy's "Looking Backward"—The Nationalist Movement—The People's Party—The Omaha Convention and Platform—Growth of Socialist Sentiment	307
II. THE DISINTEGRATION OF THE SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY. New Requirements of the Socialist Movement—Hostile Attitude of Party Leaders toward Trade-Unions and Reform Movements—Frictions within the Party—Hostile Relations—Final Breach—Rochester Convention of 1899	322
III. THE SOCIALIST PARTY. New Socialist Elements—The Social Democracy of America—Chicago Convention of 1898—Colonization Scheme—Social Democratic Party—Progress of the Party—Indianapolis Convention of 1900—Negotiations for Union with the Rochester Faction of the Socialist Labor Party—Failure of Negotiations—Rival Parties—Presidential Campaign of 1900—Indianapolis Convention of 1901—Final Unity—Socialist Party	330
IV. PRESENT CONDITION OF THE SOCIALIST MOVEMENT. Decline of the Socialist Labor Party—Growth of the Socialist Party—Enrolled Membership—Success at Polls—Party Press—Sympathy of Trade-Unions—Condition and Prospects of the Movement	339
APPENDIX I: Platform of the Socialist Party	349
APPENDIX II: Platform of the Socialist Labor Party	352
INDEX	355